

REAL ESTATE SERVICES

Whatever you need to market your property, you can find it here. My services run the gamut from interior/exterior photos to jaw-dropping twilight and aerial shots, 360-degree virtual tours and floor plans.

Interior & Exterior Photos

You have only one chance to entice a potential buyer. That's when they click on your online listing and see your photos. In a digital age when 90% of people make a decision about attending a viewing online, premium photos of your property can determine how fast it sells and for how much, or whether it gets any interest at all.

Twilight Photoshoots

Twilight shots can make any property look jaw-dropping and blow the competition out of the water. Twilight shoots will make your home stand out amongst all their properties for sale in the area, especially in places where daytime shoots are the norm. Show buyers how your property looks at a time when they can't visit it for a viewing.

Aerial Photography & Video Services

Homes with aerial images or video sell 65% faster than those without. Buzz Covington is a professionally certified, FAA compliant and fully insured drone pilot. Additionally, he is a commercially rated pilot with over 7,000 accident / incident free hours in civil and military aircraft.

Professional Headshots & Portraits

Head-turning professional headshots are no longer a luxury. They are a necessity. Nowadays most people will see you online first, before they even get a chance to meet you in person. Having a headshot that makes you look attractive and professional can be a great way to make an impression on customers, business partners or future employers.

2-D and 3-D Floor Plans

Want to increase your chance of attracting buyers by 20%? According to real estate agents, up to 20% of buyers will not view a property unless they can see a house plan first. Floor plans grab attention, simplify the decision-making process and allow a buyer to visualize property details, measurements and features, such as space, storage or extensions.

360° Virtual Tours

Virtual Tours sell a property five times quicker than a still photo. A virtual tour is the fastest way to show them exactly what the home looks and feels like. At the end of the day nothing matches a high-definition, 360° walk-through that positions the viewer inside as if they were touring the home in-person.

INTERIOR & EXTERIOR PHOTOGRAPHY

You have only one chance to entice a potential buyer. That's when they click on your online listing and see your photos. In a digital age when 90% of people make a decision about attending a viewing online, premium photos of your property can determine how fast it sells and for how much, or whether it gets any interest at all. As a professional photographer I'm trained to find the best angles, use the right light and composition to bring out the distinctive architectural features of your home. When a buyer sees an attractive photo, they picture themselves living in that home, and you've attracted their interest. That translates into more calls, more viewings and more profitable sales for you.
